

Howard Milhench
21/06/2001 16:59

To: alee@kingsfords.co.uk
cc:
Subject: Simon Hunt and Media Logic Systems Ltd

Dear Mr Lee ,

Thanks for your letter of 20 June . I did try to call you but you were out .

My hope is that you will feel able to counsel Simon to sign the forms on the basis that to do so is no big deal and in no way detracts from his position . I would have no problem with your putting the forms to another firm of patent attorneys if you were in any way unhappy with my assurance that they are purely standard forms and absolutely harmless . Simon seems happy that we (Media Logic) could sign them ourselves under the power of attorney that he has signed , regardless of any doubts that I have in that connection , but will not sign the things himself which seems illogical .

As I said in my letter , we are running out of time .

I am happy to put up to £1000 your way in order to elicit your assistance . If it turned out that you advised Simon not to sign , I would hope you would tell me why . If you recommended that he should sign and he refused to do so , I would then know where I stood . At the moment I am in limbo .

I am happy to talk to you about this if that helps . I have no argument with Simon who I always found to be an excellent bloke . If he wants to be difficult on this , well that is his prerogative . but I would hope we could talk him out of it .

I look forward to hearing from you .

This email is confidential and is for the intended addressee or addressees only. Legal privilege may apply and is not waived for unintended recipients. If you have received this email in error you must not read, copy or distribute it, take any action in reliance on it or otherwise deal with it. Please destroy or delete immediately all received copies of the email and its contents, whether stored electronically, physically or otherwise. Please notify the sender as soon as possible.